
GRADE 2

Cash Video Scripts

C A S H

Businesses solve problems

Eight short Cash videos for the year.

Grade 2 — Cash to Company: Cash Video Scripts

Eight short videos, one per major Grade 2 milestone. Each script targets 2:00–2:30 finished runtime, 350–420 spoken words. Grade 2 videos are slightly longer than Kindergarten because second graders can sit longer and follow more language. Visuals still carry most of the meaning.

Format conventions:

- [VISUAL] = animated visual cue.
- CASH: = spoken dialogue. K-2 voice rules apply: 6–10 word sentences, concrete only.
- [SFX] = sound effect or music cue.

K-2 voice rules applied: short sentences, concrete only, repetition is friendly. Cash never says "amazing!", "boss up", "easy money", or "just believe." Each script ends with a clear classroom CTA the teacher can run that day.

Video 1 — "Hi Again, Friend" (Week 1, Unit 1 Launch)

Runtime target: 2:00 Strand mapping: BAVC + PSIG Word count target: ~360

[VISUAL: Cash, the coin-shaped mascot, slides in from the side carrying a small clipboard. Warm yellow background. School sounds in the distance.]

CASH: Hi, friend. It's me, Cash.

[VISUAL: Cash waves with one hand. The other hand holds the clipboard.]

CASH: Last year you noticed helpers. Good job.

[VISUAL: Quick flashback — three drawings of helpers from a Helpers Wall. Mail carrier, librarian, firefighter.]

CASH: This year, we notice something new. Problems.

[VISUAL: The word PROBLEMS appears in big warm letters.]

CASH: A problem is a thing that bothers us.

[VISUAL: Cash walks down a school hallway. A stack of mismatched mittens on the floor. A pencil sharpener with a long line. A child with no lunch.]

CASH: Look. Mismatched mittens. That's a problem.

[VISUAL: Cash points at the pile.]

CASH: A long line at the pencil sharpener. That's a problem.

[VISUAL: Cash points at the line.]

CASH: A kid forgot their lunchbox today. That's a problem.

[VISUAL: Cash gives a small, concerned face.]

CASH: Every problem has a helper.

[VISUAL: Three small helper drawings appear: a mitten store, a school office, a friend sharing a snack.]

CASH: A mitten store helps with mittens. A school office calls home. A friend shares a snack.

[VISUAL: Stars pop over each helper as Cash names them.]

CASH: Sometimes the helper is a business. Sometimes a friend.

[VISUAL: Cash leans forward, friendly.]

CASH: This year, we look for problems. In our school. Every week.

[VISUAL: A bulletin board appears, blank, labeled PROBLEM WALL.]

CASH: Your teacher has a Problem Wall. We will fill it up.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up a sticky note with a drawing of a long line.]

CASH: You write your problem on a sticky. You put it on the wall.

[VISUAL: Cash sticks the note onto the wall. Cash gives a small thumbs up.]

CASH: Don't make it up. Look first.

[VISUAL: A child looks around the school hallway. They notice the broken pencil sharpener.]

CASH: Use your eyes. Use your ears. A real problem is best.

[VISUAL: Cash points at the camera.]

CASH: What problem will you find today?

CTA: CASH: Find one problem in our school today. Tell your teacher. Add a sticky to the wall. See you soon.

[VISUAL: Cash waves with both hands. The Problem Wall fills with a few more stickies. Fade.]

[SFX: SOFT CHIME.]

Video 2 — "Problem, Then Idea" (Week 8, Unit 1)

Runtime target: 2:15 Strand mapping: PSIG + BAVC Word count target: ~390

[VISUAL: Cash at a small desk. A big index card sits on the desk, divided in half. The top half says PROBLEM. The bottom half says IDEA.]

CASH: Hi, friend. Today we make a card.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the card so the camera sees it clearly.]

CASH: Two halves. Problem on top. Idea on the bottom.

[VISUAL: Cash taps the top half.]

CASH: First, we write the problem. Real one. From our school.

[VISUAL: Cash thinks. A thought bubble shows the school's lunch line, very long.]

CASH: My problem: the lunch line is too long.

[VISUAL: Cash writes "lunch line too long" on the top half of the card. A drawing of a long line appears in the corner.]

CASH: Now the idea.

[VISUAL: Cash taps the bottom half.]

CASH: What could fix it? Think. Look. Listen.

[VISUAL: Cash imagines two ideas. Idea one: a second line. Idea two: a snack cart in the hallway.]

CASH: I have two. A second lunch line. Or a snack cart.

[VISUAL: Cash picks the second line idea.]

CASH: I will pick one. The second line.

[VISUAL: Cash writes "second lunch line" on the bottom half of the card. A drawing of two short lines appears.]

CASH: That's my card. Problem. Idea. Both real.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the finished card proudly.]

CASH: Now you make one. Use your problem. Use your idea.

[VISUAL: A blank card appears on screen. Empty boxes for PROBLEM and IDEA.]

CASH: Don't worry about spelling. Draw a picture too.

[VISUAL: A child fills in a card. PROBLEM: pencil sharpener jams. Drawing: a sharpener with a sad face. IDEA: a second sharpener. Drawing: two sharpeners with happy faces.]

CASH: Show your card to a partner. Read it out loud.

[VISUAL: Two children share cards. They smile.]

CASH: This is a first try. We will make it better later.

[VISUAL: Cash gives a calm, friendly look.]

CASH: First try is the deal. Better try comes after.

CTA: CASH: Today, make your Problem to Idea card. Show a partner. Tell them your problem and your idea. See you soon.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the card and waves. Fade.]

Video 3 — "A Dollar and the Coins That Come Back" (Week 11, Unit 2 Launch)

Runtime target: 2:15 Strand mapping: MFL Word count target: ~395

Helpers are everywhere. Each one is a kind of business.

[VISUAL: Cash at a small store counter. A pretzel sits on a plate. A price tag reads 60¢. A paper dollar lies on the counter.]

CASH: Hi, friend. Today we make change.

[VISUAL: Cash points at the dollar.]

CASH: This is a dollar. A dollar is one hundred cents.

[VISUAL: A 10-by-10 grid of dots appears next to the dollar. 100 dots.]

CASH: One hundred. That's a lot of cents.

[VISUAL: Cash points at the pretzel and its tag.]

CASH: This pretzel costs sixty cents.

[VISUAL: 60 dots appear next to the pretzel.]

CASH: I pay with a dollar. How much comes back?

[VISUAL: The 60 dots subtract from the 100 grid. 40 dots remain.]

CASH: Forty cents. Forty comes back.

[VISUAL: The number 40 appears big on screen.]

CASH: What coins make forty?

[VISUAL: Cash slides three coins across the counter — a quarter, a dime, a nickel.]

CASH: A quarter is twenty-five. A dime is ten. A nickel is five.

[VISUAL: Each coin's value appears as Cash names it. 25 + 10 + 5.]

CASH: Twenty-five plus ten is thirty-five. Plus five is forty.

[VISUAL: The math appears on a small chalkboard: 25 + 10 + 5 = 40.]

CASH: Three coins. Forty cents. That's the change.

[VISUAL: Cash slides the three coins back across the counter to a child-customer.]

CASH: Let's try one more.

[VISUAL: A new item — a sticker. Price tag: 75¢. A dollar on the counter.]

CASH: A sticker. Seventy-five cents.

[VISUAL: 75 dots subtract from 100. 25 dots remain.]

CASH: What comes back? Twenty-five.

[VISUAL: One quarter slides across.]

CASH: One quarter. Twenty-five cents. Done.

[VISUAL: A small chart appears: PRICE + CHANGE = 100.]

CASH: This is the rule. Price plus change equals one hundred.

[VISUAL: Cash points at the chart.]

CASH: Price plus change. Equals a dollar.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up a small wall poster of the four coin values: P=1, N=5, D=10, Q=25.]

CASH: Use the chart if you forget. The chart is a helper too.

CTA: CASH: Today, you try. Pick a price under a dollar. Pick the coins for the change. Show your teacher. See you soon.

[VISUAL: Cash waves. The pretzel and the sticker spin once. Fade.]

CASH SAYS

Which coin is more? Show me with your hands.

Video 4 — "The Class Market" (Week 16, Unit 2)

Runtime target: 2:15 Strand mapping: MFL + OSO + LTO Word count target: ~385

[VISUAL: A bright classroom. Six small "stores" set up around the room. Signs on each: SNACK STAND, STICKER SHOP, PET SHOP, BOOK CART. Cash walks through.]

CASH: Hi, friend. Welcome to the Class Market.

[VISUAL: Cash flips an OPEN sign. The bell rings.]

CASH: Today, our room is a market. You are both.

[VISUAL: A child puts on an apron at one stand. Another child holds a paper dollar.]

CASH: Sometimes shopkeeper. Sometimes customer. We trade.

[VISUAL: A clipboard with a checklist appears: 1. Sign up. 2. Goods out. 3. Prices on. 4. Coins in drawer. 5. Ready to open.]

CASH: First, the setup checklist.

[VISUAL: Cash ticks each box as it lights up.]

CASH: Sign up. Goods out. Prices on. Coins in the drawer. Ready to open.

[VISUAL: A child at a stand checks each box on a paper.]

CASH: When all boxes are checked, you ring the bell.

[VISUAL: A child rings a small chime. The OPEN sign flips up.]

CASH: Now the customers come.

[VISUAL: Two customers walk to the snack stand. One points at a paper pretzel. Price: 60¢. Hands over a dollar.]

CASH: Customer says: "Please, may I have a pretzel?"

[VISUAL: A speech bubble shows the line.]

CASH: Shopkeeper says: "Yes. Sixty cents. Here is your change."

[VISUAL: Three coins slide back — a quarter, a dime, a nickel.]

CASH: The shopkeeper made change. Forty cents.

[VISUAL: Cash gives a small thumbs up.]

CASH: Then we trade. Now the shopkeeper is the customer.

[VISUAL: The two children swap. New apron, new dollar.]

CASH: Take turns. Take turns. Take turns.

[VISUAL: A third role lights up on a JOBS chart: MANAGER.]

CASH: And one more job. The manager.

[VISUAL: A child with a clipboard walks the room.]

CASH: The manager checks the checklist. The manager helps when stuck.

[VISUAL: The manager hands a coin chart to a stuck shopkeeper. The stuck shopkeeper smiles.]

CASH: When all the boxes are checked, the job is done.

[VISUAL: Cash flips the OPEN sign to CLOSED. The bell rings.]

CASH: That was a real market move. You did it.

CTA: CASH: Today, set up your stand. Use the checklist. Make change for one customer. See you soon.

[VISUAL: Cash waves. The market signs spin. Fade.]

Video 5 — "Signs Are Helpers Too" (Week 20, Unit 3 Launch)

Runtime target: 2:00 Strand mapping: CBM Word count target: ~365

Penny. Nickel. Dime. Quarter. We say each name out loud.

[VISUAL: Cash on a sidewalk in front of three real-looking storefronts. Each has a sign.]

CASH: Hi, friend. Today we look at signs.

[VISUAL: Cash points at the first sign — a big OPEN.]

CASH: This sign says OPEN. What does that tell the customer?

[VISUAL: A small thought bubble shows a customer thinking "I can come in."]

CASH: Come in. The store is open.

[VISUAL: Cash walks to the second sign. It reads LINE FORMS HERE with an arrow.]

CASH: This sign says LINE FORMS HERE. What does it do?

[VISUAL: Customers form a tidy line behind the arrow.]

CASH: It tells the customers where to stand.

[VISUAL: Cash walks to the third sign. It reads TODAY'S SPECIAL: APPLES 25¢.]

CASH: This sign says today's special. Apples for twenty-five cents.

[VISUAL: A customer points at the apples and smiles.]

CASH: Now the customer knows what's new. And the price.

[VISUAL: Cash steps back, taking in all three signs.]

CASH: Three signs. Three jobs. All helpers.

[VISUAL: The three signs glow.]

CASH: A sign helps the customer figure things out.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up a small blank sign-shape and a marker.]

CASH: Now you draw a sign. Pick any business.

[VISUAL: A child draws a sign for a lemonade stand. Big yellow letters. A picture of a cup.]

CASH: Make it big. Make it clear. One picture. One short message.

[VISUAL: The sign reads "LEMONADE 50¢."]

CASH: Now read it from across the room. Can the customer see it?

[VISUAL: A customer at the back of the room squints, then smiles.]

CASH: Yes. Big enough. Clear enough.

[VISUAL: Cash gestures toward the classroom Sign Library wall, which is starting to fill up.]

CASH: Put your sign on the Sign Library wall. We will read them all.

[VISUAL: A new sign joins the wall.]

CASH: A good sign helps. Every time.

CTA: CASH: Today, draw one sign. For any business. Put it on the wall. Tell a partner why it helps the customer. See you soon.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the lemonade sign and waves. Fade.]

Video 6 — "Three Jobs on a Team" (Week 24, Unit 3)

Runtime target: 2:15 Strand mapping: LTO Word count target: ~395

[VISUAL: A small classroom skit setup — a counter, an apple on a plate, a paper coin. Cash stands beside it.]

CASH: Hi, friend. Today we run a team.

[VISUAL: Three lanyards appear in the air, one at a time. They read: BOSS, WORKER, CUSTOMER.]

CASH: Three jobs. Each one matters.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the BOSS lanyard.]

CASH: First, the boss. The boss decides what we do.

[VISUAL: A child puts on the BOSS lanyard. They look serious but kind.]

CASH: The boss says: "Today, we sell apples for fifty cents."

[VISUAL: A speech bubble shows the line.]

CASH: Now, the worker.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the WORKER lanyard. A second child puts it on.]

CASH: The worker does the job. The worker sells the apple.

[VISUAL: The worker stands behind the counter. An apple on a plate.]

CASH: The worker says: "Yes, here's an apple. Fifty cents please."

[VISUAL: A speech bubble shows the line.]

CASH: Now, the customer.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the CUSTOMER lanyard. A third child puts it on. They hold a paper coin.]

CASH: The customer buys. The customer pays.

[VISUAL: The customer at the counter.]

CASH: The customer says: "Please, may I have an apple?"

[VISUAL: The full skit runs in real time. Boss says the line. Worker says the line. Customer says the line. A coin and an apple change hands. All three smile.]

CASH: Boss decides. Worker does. Customer buys.

[VISUAL: Cash counts on three fingers as the three jobs flash by.]

CASH: All three help. All three matter.

[VISUAL: The three children swap lanyards. Now the customer is the boss. The worker is the customer. The boss is the worker.]

CASH: Then we trade. Take turns. Each one takes each job.

[VISUAL: The skit runs again, with the new roles. Cash claps softly.]

CASH: Why three jobs? Because no one helper does it all.

[VISUAL: Cash walks between the three children, gesturing.]

CASH: A team is stronger. A team is fairer. A team takes turns.

[VISUAL: The lanyards line up on a hook on the wall.]

CASH: Tomorrow, you'll wear one. The day after, another.

CTA: CASH: Today, take a role in a team skit. Pick boss, worker, or customer. Say the line. Trade. See you soon.

[VISUAL: Cash waves. The lanyards spin once on the hook. Fade.]

Video 7 — "Fair to the Customer" (Week 27, Unit 3)

Runtime target: 2:30 Strand mapping: ESL Word count target: ~420

[VISUAL: Cash sitting on a small step, holding a card that says "FAIR." A "NOT FAIR" card sits beside Cash.]

CASH: Hi, friend. Today we talk about fair.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the FAIR card.]

CASH: Fair has a real meaning. Not just "what I want."

[VISUAL: Cash leans in.]

CASH: Fair to the customer means three things.

[VISUAL: Three small pictures pop up. One: a person with their hand on their heart. Two: two cookies the same size. Three: an empty hand with no hidden tricks.]

CASH: Honest. The same for everybody. No tricks.

[VISUAL: The three phrases stack on a sign: HONEST. SAME FOR EVERYBODY. NO TRICKS.]

CASH: Three rules. Let's try a story.

[VISUAL: A small comic-strip scene. A child named Maya at a lemonade stand. The stand has a sign: 25¢ a cup.]

CASH: Maya runs a lemonade stand. Twenty-five cents a cup.

[VISUAL: Maya pours one full cup. Then another full cup. Then a third. All the same.]

CASH: Maya fills every cup the same way.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the FAIR card.]

CASH: That's fair. Honest. Same for everybody. No tricks.

[VISUAL: A new comic-strip scene. A child named Jonas at a cookie stand. Sign: 50¢ a cookie.]

CASH: Jonas runs a cookie stand. Fifty cents a cookie.

[VISUAL: Jonas hands his friend two cookies. Then hands his neighbor one cookie. Both pay fifty cents.]

CASH: Same price. Different number.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the NOT FAIR card.]

CASH: That's not fair. Not the same for everybody.

[VISUAL: Cash gives a small concerned face.]

CASH: Same price means same cookie. That's the rule.

[VISUAL: A third comic-strip scene. A child named Priya at a bracelet stand. Sign: SILVER BRACELETS.]

CASH: Priya says her bracelets are silver. Look closer.

[VISUAL: Zoom in on a bracelet. It's plastic painted silver.]

CASH: They are plastic painted silver.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the NOT FAIR card.]

CASH: That's not fair. Not honest.

[VISUAL: Three customers stand together. One smiles at Maya's lemonade. Two frown at the others.]

CASH: Customers find out. Customers stop buying.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up the three rules again.]

CASH: Three rules. Use them on yourself.

[VISUAL: Cash points at the camera, gentle.]

CASH: Is your idea honest? Same for everybody? No tricks?

CTA: CASH: Today, listen to a story. Hold up FAIR or NOT FAIR. Tell one reason. See you soon.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up FAIR with both hands. Fade.]

CASH SAYS

What comes first? What comes next?

Video 8 — "Show a Grown-up Your Idea" (Week 36, Family Visit Day)

Runtime target: 2:30 Strand mapping: all 8 — year capstone Word count target: ~415

[VISUAL: Cash standing in the classroom. Behind Cash: the full Problem Wall, the Sign Library wall, and the Class Market corner. Children stand at small Solve-It Fair booths. Family members walk in.]

CASH: Hi, family. Welcome to the Solve-It Fair.

[VISUAL: Cash gestures across the room.]

CASH: The kids worked all year. They saw problems. They had ideas.

[VISUAL: Camera pans across the Problem Wall. Stickies of long lines, lost mittens, jammed sharpeners.]

CASH: They asked classmates. They changed their work.

[VISUAL: A child at a booth holds up a Problem → Idea card. The back has peer notes.]

CASH: Today, your kid will show you their card.

[VISUAL: Cash holds up a sample card with both halves filled.]

CASH: Problem on top. Idea on the bottom. Peer notes on the back.

[VISUAL: Cash turns to the children.]

CASH: Friends. Tell your grown-up.

[VISUAL: Speech bubble model: "My problem is . My idea is . My classmate said change . I will try ."]

CASH: Use the script. Slow down.

[VISUAL: A child reads the script to a grown-up. The grown-up nods.]

CASH: Then visit the Class Market.

[VISUAL: Cash gestures toward the market corner. Children stand at stations.]

CASH: Play one round. Make change for your grown-up.

[VISUAL: A grown-up hands a paper dollar. The child slides back coins for a 67¢ price.]

CASH: A quarter. A nickel. Three pennies. Thirty-three cents.

[VISUAL: Both smile. Cash gives a calm thumbs up.]

CASH: That was real work.

[VISUAL: Cash counts on fingers as snapshots flash.]

CASH: Problems. Ideas. Change. Signs. Team roles. Fair. Asked. Shared.

[VISUAL: Each shows for a beat — sticky, card, coins, OPEN sign, BOSS lanyard, FAIR card, peer pair, booth.]

CASH: Eight things. A big year.

[VISUAL: Cash looks at the camera, gentle.]

CASH: Helpers help. Problems get solved. We ask. We change.

[VISUAL: A card on screen: PROBLEM. IDEA. ASK. CHANGE. SHARE.]

CASH: Five words. Yours now.

CTA: CASH: Show your grown-up your card. Play one round. See you in third grade, friend.

[VISUAL: Cash waves with both hands. The whole class waves. Family members wave back. Fade.]

[SFX: SOFT WARM CHORD.]

Production notes (for the animator)

- Heavy [VISUAL] use is the design. Second graders are mid-readers. Every word Cash says should be paired with a picture or motion that carries the meaning. Type appears for emphasis (PROBLEM, FAIR, NOT FAIR) but is not load-bearing.
- Cash's voice — calm, warm, a little older than K. Same character. Slightly more sentence variety. Still 6–10 word sentences. Still "thoughtful older sibling," not "hyped TV presenter."
- Repetition is still the lesson. "Honest. Same for everybody. No tricks." Keep all three lines, every time.
- Visual palette. Warm yellow, sky blue, soft pink, mint. No neon. No fast cuts. No flashing.
- Safe content. No real brand names. No real living celebrities. No food framed as "junk" or "good." Pretend coins (or generic-looking coins) only.
- Closed captions. Always. Many second graders can read along.
- Length. 2:00–2:30 each. The Capstone (V8) can stretch to 2:45 if needed for the full eight-strand recap; do not exceed 3:00.
- Sensitivity: the fairness video (V7) names "tricks" and "not fair" but does so with kid-business stories. Do not introduce real-world examples (a controversial brand, a news story) — the lesson is for seven-year-olds, not twelve-year-olds.

UPGRADE LAYER (added by Brand & SMM Director, 2026-04-25)

K-2 cross-script conventions apply: "Notice with me" opener, Notebook Tilt, 3-2-1 countdown CTA, concrete example by 0:30.

Video 1 — "Hi Again, Friend" — Upgrade

- NEW HOOK: [VISUAL: A pinwheel that won't spin. A child looks at it. Cash leans in.] CASH: "Notice with me. There's a problem."
- Shareable Cash line: "Businesses solve problems. Some big. Some small."
- 9-second Shorts cut: Pinwheel won't spin → fix → "A business solves a problem." Title: "What grade 2 thinks a business is."
- Classroom CTA: Class problem hunt — 5 minutes — find one classroom problem you could fix.

CASH SAYS

Tell me what they said with their words.

Video 2 — "Problem, Then Idea" — Upgrade

- NEW HOOK: [VISUAL: A wobbling table. Then a folded napkin slips under the leg. The table steadies.] CASH: "Notice with me. Problem first. Then idea."
- Shareable Cash line: "Problem first. Then idea. Always in that order."
- 9-second Shorts cut: Wobble → fix → big text PROBLEM → IDEA.
- Classroom CTA: "Problem-Idea pairs" — each kid writes a sticky-note problem and a sticky-note idea. Stick them up paired.

Video 3 — "A Dollar and the Coins That Come Back" — Upgrade

- NEW HOOK: [VISUAL: A dollar bill goes IN. Coins come OUT.] CASH: "Notice with me. The dollar broke into pieces!"
- Shareable Cash line: "A dollar is a hundred. The coins make a hundred too."
- 9-second Shorts cut: Dollar → coin breakdown animation → "Four quarters. Ten dimes. Twenty nickels. A hundred pennies. All one dollar."
- Classroom CTA: "Make a dollar" challenge — each pair finds three different coin combinations that equal $1.

Video 4 — "The Class Market" — Upgrade

- NEW HOOK: [VISUAL: A pop-up market with hand-drawn signs.] CASH: "Notice with me. Open for business!"

- Shareable Cash line: "Buying. Selling. Trading. That's a market."
- 9-second Shorts cut: Market opens → trades happen → "BUY. SELL. TRADE. Take turns."
- Classroom CTA: 10-minute Class Market. Three roles: seller, buyer, restocker. Pretend money only.

Video 5 — "Signs Are Helpers Too" — Upgrade

- NEW HOOK: [VISUAL: Two signs. One says "FOOD." One says "WARM SOUP, $1." A kid walks past the first, stops at the second.] CASH: "Notice with me. One sign is doing more!"
- Shareable Cash line: "A sign is a tiny promise. Be specific."
- 9-second Shorts cut: Two signs side by side → kid picks the specific one → "Specific wins."
- Classroom CTA: Make a sign for your pretend business. One promise. One price. Specific words.

CASH SAYS

Notice, notice, notice. What did you see?

Video 6 — "Three Jobs on a Team" — Upgrade

- NEW HOOK: [VISUAL: Three children pile onto one job. Chaos. Cash holds up three job cards.] CASH: "Notice with me. Three jobs. Three people."
- Shareable Cash line: "A team works because everyone has a job to do."
- 9-second Shorts cut: Chaos → role cards → smooth teamwork.
- Classroom CTA: Class team draw — each table gets 3 role cards. Kids assign themselves and run a 4-minute task.

Video 7 — "Fair to the Customer" — Upgrade

- NEW HOOK: [VISUAL: A pretend store. A sign says "FREE!" Then in tiny letters: "with $5 purchase."] CASH: "Notice with me. That's not fair."
- Shareable Cash line: "Fair means: what the sign says is what you get."
- 9-second Shorts cut: Big sign / tiny print reveal → "Fair? Not fair?"
- Classroom CTA: "Fair check" — show 4 pretend ads. Pairs vote fair / not fair with thumbs up / down.

Video 8 — "Show a Grown-up Your Idea" — Upgrade

- NEW HOOK: [VISUAL: A child unfolds a tiny three-panel poster.] CASH: "Notice with me. They made a whole plan."

- Shareable Cash line: "You found a problem. You made an idea. You ran a market. That's a year."
- 9-second Shorts cut: Three-panel reveal → kid presents → grown-up smiles.
- Classroom CTA: Family Visit Day. Each kid shows three things: a problem they noticed, an idea they made, and a sign for their pretend business.
