The Workbook for the Year

Leading three people, listening to one customer, executing six weeks.

11

Welcome.

WITH CASH - 9-12 VOICE

"An MVP is the smallest test that could change your mind. It's not a v1."

You are about to lead a team of three for four weeks. You are about to record yourself in a sales conversation and watch the recording. You are about to build a 12-month spreadsheet that will tell you something true about your venture you did not know. You are about to run a 6-week sprint with five named experiments and pitch the result to real adults.

This book is the structured part of that work. The Capstone Journal you keep in a separate notebook is the messy part — sketches, half-thoughts, Friday rants, the things you write when no one is grading. You need both.

Cash, your animated guide for the year, will pop up between sections to ask the questions that matter. Cash never tells you what to do. Cash asks what your evidence says. The question for the year is the same as every year: which people, and how do you know?

How to use this book

> "Some of this is hard because the world's hard. The skill is knowing what's in your hands."
> - CASH, GRADE 11

- Date every entry. Future-you will care.
- Quote your evidence. When you write what a customer said, use their actual words. Made-up quotes are not evidence; they're imagination dressed up as fact.
- Don't skip the reflection prompts. They look optional. They are not.
- It's okay to be wrong. The point of evidence is to find out where you were wrong, fast.
- Teams use one shared workbook for team artifacts (charter, retro, sprint board) and individual books for individual reflection.

Unit 1 — Leading without authority (Weeks 1–8)

Activity 1.1 — Day 1 Leadership Stance

Three concrete behaviors I will bring to my team this year. Behaviors, not adjectives.

"As a teammate, I will be the person who..."

1.
3.

Predict. On a 1–5 scale, how likely am I to actually do these in Week 8? Circle one.

1	2	3	4	5
Not at all	A little	About half	Mostly	Definitely

Activity 1.2 — Charisma vs. Clarity Sort

Sort the following teammate behaviors. Mark CHA (charisma) or CLA (clarity). Some are both — mark both and explain.

___ Sends a 3-bullet update every Friday by 3pm. ___ Posts an inspirational quote in the team chat on Monday. ___ Names the next 3 things to ship and who owns each. ___ Pulls a quiet teammate aside to ask their view. ___ Promises a "huge win" at the team kickoff. ___ Cuts a goal in half because the team is overloaded. ___ Tells the team they're great after a tough week. ___ Asks "what's blocking you?" in a 1:1.

Reflection (3 sentences): Which behaviors does your team most need? Which can it survive without?

Activity 1.3 — Team Charter (1 page, fill in with your team)

Team name: _____

Capstone venture (working title): _____

1. Purpose. What we're building, in one sentence.

2. Roles. Who is accountable for what? (RACI lite — name 3–5 areas of work.)

Area of work	Accountable	Responsible	Consulted	Informed

3. Norms. How we communicate, when we meet, how we handle disagreement.

4. Decision rules. Default: _____ Big decisions (over $ or affecting all of us): ____ If we can't agree, we will: _____

5. What I'm bringing. Each teammate writes one sentence. - Member A: _____ - Member B: _____ - Member C: _____

Activity 1.4 — First 1:1 Notes

Pair with one teammate. Each direction gets 5 minutes. Use the 4-prompt frame.

My teammate's name: _____

Wins this week. (What did they do that worked?)

What they're stuck on. (Quote them.)

Their question for me. (Quote them.)

What they need from me next week. (Specific.)

One thing I learned about them I didn't know before:

Activity 1.5 — Week 8 Retrospective: Continue / Stop / Start / Decide

Fill 2 stickies in each column. Cluster as a team. Then resolve one Decide item with "we will do X by Y."

Continue	Stop	Start	Decide

The one Decide we resolved: _____

We will do: _____ by __

My one specific commitment for the next sprint: _____

The dependency that could derail this: _____

My fallback plan if the dependency fails: _____

Cash, between activities

> "You're going to find out which agreements your charter actually held. Most teams discover at Week 4 that the section they spent the least time on is the section they needed most. That's the gift of running into Week 4. Don't fix the symptom. Fix the section."

AN INTERLUDE · GRADE 11

"Which people, and how do you know?"

the program's spine question.

Unit 2 — Sales is structured listening (Weeks 9–18)

Activity 2.1 — Bad Sales Call Critique

Listen (or read aloud) the bad sales call provided in the program assets. Mark each move:

The seller...	Yes / No	What I'd change
Asked an open question in the first 90 seconds
Listened more than they talked in discovery
Used the customer's words back to them
Made a claim they couldn't back up
Created fake urgency
Made a clear, specific ask at the end

Would I buy? Y / N. Why? _____

Activity 2.2 — Discovery Question Builder

Write 7 discovery questions for your Capstone customer. At least 5 must be open. Mark each O (open), C (closed), or L (leading). Rewrite any L into O.

#	Question	O / C / L	Layer (situation / pain / goal / constraint)

Activity 2.3 — The 5-Step Sales Conversation

Map a sales conversation for your Capstone. One sentence per step.

Open — How will I build rapport in 30 seconds? _____

Discover — What's the first open question I'll ask? _____

Present — What value-fit sentence will I use, in their words? ___

Handle objection — Which objection do I most expect? My A-C-R script: - Acknowledge: _____ - Clarify: _____ - Respond: _____

Close — My specific ask, word-for-word: _____

Activity 2.4 — Sales Rubric Self-Score

After your recorded role-play, score yourself. 1–4 scale per criterion.

Criterion	Score (1–4)	Evidence (a moment in the recording)
Rapport
Discovery
Value-fit
Objection-handling
Honest claim
Clear ask

Total: ___ / 24

One thing I did well: _____

One thing I want to work on: _____

One question I wish I'd asked: _____

Activity 2.5 — No-Go List (ESL anchor)

Three things my venture will refuse to do, even if they would work.

1.
2.

3.

For each, the temptation I'm refusing:

1.
2.
3.

Three ethical guardrails I'm choosing as my year's anchor:

- Truthful claims. What does this look like in my venture? ____
- Healthy work hours. What's the rule? _____
- No deceptive pricing. What's the rule? _____

Cash, between activities

> "The 'honest claim' line on the rubric is the one you should care about most. A great sale that involves a misleading claim scores 1 on that row, no matter how smooth. The reason is not that I'm scolding you. The reason is that misleading claims build short-term sales and burn long-term customers. Pick what you're playing for."

Unit 3 — The cash flow truth (Weeks 19–28)

Activity 3.1 — Profit vs. Cash Sort

Mark each statement P (about profit), C (about cash), or B (both).

___ Maya earned $1,200 in November. ___ Maya's bank account had $50 at the end of November. ___ Customer paid for July tutoring in August. ___ The website cost $300 paid up front in March. ___ Maya owes the peer tutor $200 for May, paid in June. ___ Net income for the year was $4,500. ___ Ending cash was $750 in the tightest month.

Reflection: In one sentence, what's the difference?

Activity 3.2 — 12-Month Cash Flow Forecast

Use the spreadsheet template. Below, fill in the summary row by row.

Month	Beginning cash	Cash in	Cash out	Ending cash
Jan
Feb
Mar
Apr
May
Jun
Jul
Aug
Sep
Oct
Nov
Dec

My tight month is: _____

Why is it tight? (1–2 sentences)

Fix #1 (specific change to venture or timing):

Fix #2 (specific):

Activity 3.3 — Sensitivity Table

Move one variable at a time. Record the new ending cash for the tight month.

Variable	Minus	Base	Plus
Price (−20% / base / +20%)
Volume (−30% / base / +30%)
Cost (−15% / base / +15%)

My break point. Walk down the worst variable until ending cash crosses zero.

"My break point is when __ hits __."

What this means for my venture (1 sentence):

Activity 3.4 — Two-Fix Memo (1 page)

Write a 1-page memo to your team explaining your tight-month fixes. Use this template.

To: Team From: ___ Re: Tight-month fixes Date: ___

Situation. (2 sentences — what the forecast shows.)

Recommendation #1. (Specific change. Why it works. What it costs.)

Recommendation #2. (Specific change. Why it works. What it costs.)

What I'm uncertain about. (1–2 sentences.)

Cash, between activities

> "Most adults never run a 12-month forecast. They run their venture month-to-month, hope for the best, and find out at the worst possible moment that they can't make rent. You are not those adults. You ran the spreadsheet. You found the tight month. You wrote two fixes. The skill is real. The habit is what carries you."

Unit 4 — Execute under uncertainty (Weeks 29–36)

> "Profit is an opinion. Cash is a fact."
> - CASH, GRADE 11

Activity 4.1 — Local Business Case Study (BAVC anchor)

Interview or research one successful local business. Identify three decisions that drove growth.

Business: _____

How long in operation: ____

Three decisions that drove growth:

1.
   Why this mattered: _____
2.
   Why this mattered: _____
3.
   Why this mattered: _____

One thing the founder said I'd quote:

Activity 4.2 — 5-Experiment Growth Backlog (PSIG anchor)

Each row is one experiment. Hypothesis must be falsifiable.

#	Hypothesis (If/Then/Because)	Test (smallest version)	Metric	Stop Rule	Sequence

Leading metric for experiments 1–5: _____

Lagging metric that the leading predicts: _____

The experiment we run first, and why:

Activity 4.3 — Sprint Board (OSO anchor)

Use a project management tool (board-style or list-style). Take a screenshot at the end of each week. Below, log the weekly check-ins.

Week	What we shipped	What we learned	What we'll do next	Blocker

Activity 4.4 — Investor-Style Pitch Deck (LRCI anchor)

Six slides, 5 minutes total. Fill in one sentence per slide.

1. Customer. Who specifically. _____
2. Problem. The frustration in their words. _____
3. Solution. What we built and why it fits. _____
4. Traction. The number that proves customers want it. _____
5. What we learned. What didn't work. What we'd do differently.

1. The ask. One specific thing we want from this audience. __

Activity 4.5 — Pitch Self-Critique (after panel Q&A)

The strongest panel question I got: (Quote it.)

My answer in the moment:

My honest answer if I had it to do again: (1 paragraph.)

One change I will make to the deck before submitting the final version:

Cash, between activities

> "The 'what we learned' slide is the one that separates the team that's pretending from the team that's actually doing this. A team that says 'we crushed it' is asking the panel to take their word. A team that says 'here's what didn't work and what we'd do next' is showing the panel they've been doing the work. Pick the second one. Investors and judges have heard the first one too many times."

AN INTERLUDE · GRADE 11

"Most adults skip this step. You won't."

the band's working assumption.

End-of-Year Reflection

The biggest thing I got wrong on Day 1

Look back at your Day 1 Leadership Stance (Activity 1.1). Compare to who you actually were as a teammate this year. Write 1 paragraph.

The one number I trust now that I didn't know in September

The one customer quote I will remember

What I will refuse to do, even if it works

One thing I want Grade 12 me to know

Vocabulary Spine (year list)

Add a Frayer model in your Capstone Journal for each weight-bearing term (marked *). Other terms get a 1-line definition + example.

Unit 1: charter*, retrospective, RACI, 1:1, dependency, accountability*

Unit 2: open question, discovery, value-fit, objection-handling*, honest claim*, close

Unit 3: cash flow*, runway, working capital, sensitivity, tight month*

Unit 4: hypothesis*, experiment, traction, leading vs. lagging metric, pivot vs. persevere*

Spine recycled from earlier years: unit economics, contribution margin, persona, premortem, MVP, COGS

This book is yours. Mark it up. Date the entries. Quote the customers. Find out where you were wrong and write that down too. By June you will know things about running a venture that almost no other 16-year-old in your school knows. Make sure the journal proves it.

Senior expert upgrade pack — Deliberate practice (Grade 11)

Practice A — 12-month cash flow with sensitivity

Build the base case. Then build a worst case (revenue down 30%) and best case (revenue up 30%).

Month	Base cash in	Base cash out	Worst cash in	Best cash in
2
12
Tightest month

In the worst case, do you still survive? ____

Practice B — Sales conversation self-scoring

Record one 5-minute sales role-play. Score yourself on each rubric criterion (1–4):

Criterion	Self-score	Evidence
Rapport
Discovery (% of time customer talked)
Value-fit (presented in customer's words?)
Objection-handling
Honest claim
Clear ask

What's your weakest criterion? Practice for next round on that one.

Practice C — Hiring-a-contractor worksheet

For a contractor you might hire (real or hypothetical):

1. What do you want done? _____
2. By when? _____
3. For how much? _____
4. Payment terms? _____
5. Kill criteria (what stops the relationship)? _____
6. Why is this contractor right (vs. doing it yourself)? _____

Practice D — 5-experiment growth backlog

For a stalled (or imagined-stalled) venture:

#	Hypothesis	Test	Metric to watch	Cost (time + $)
3

Which experiment do you run first? Why? ___
